- A. I'm afraid not. Fares go up after midnight - that's the law.
- B. OK. That'll be £18.50.
- C. Look, I'm a bit short of money. Can you wait until I go to the cash machine over there? I went to the bank today, but I spent it all buying food for my birthday party tomorrow.
- D. How much? You've got to be joking!
- E. Just drop me off at the corner, by the supermarket.
- F. Don't worry, all I want is my fare — but be quick. I've got to pick up another fare from the other side of town.
